

ALMA MATER STUDIORUM
UNIVERSITÀ DI BOLOGNA

International Politics and Economics

International Politics and Economics

What will you study?

International Relations, Economics, Business, with emphasis on finance, trade, business law, globalization, the EU, etc.

Main Subjects: International Relations, International Economics, Finance, International Business, International Political Economy, Business Law, Data analysis, etc.

Main Features

- International degree program, entirely taught in English
- Inter-class between Political science (LM-62) and Economics (LM-56).

International Politics and Economics

Main Strengths

- Internationalization: strong presence of incoming EU and non-EU students
- International mobility: Overseas, Erasmus, fieldwork abroad, dissertation abroad
- Wide range of internships in Italy and abroad
- Possibility of obtaining a double degree with the Johns Hopkins University SAIS Bologna Center or possibility to attending single courses

Career opportunities: international organizations, European institutions, risk analyst, foreign sales manager, consultancy, international trade, communication, journalism, etc.

International Politics and Economics

Admission 2024-25

Entry requirements: Bachelor degree (or at least 130 cfu) in

- Modern languages and civilisations (L-11)
- Business administration (L-18)
- Economics (L-33)
- Political science and international relations (L-36)
- Sociology (L-40)

Entry requirements: based on Curriculum vitae

Language requirements: at least B2 level (more details on the website)

International Politics and Economics

Deadlines: first intake in Spring 2024; second intake Summer 2024

The call for applications is usually published in February

<https://corsi.unibo.it/2cycle/InternationalPoliticsEconomics/how-to-enrol>

ALMA MATER STUDIORUM
UNIVERSITÀ DI BOLOGNA

Prof. Lorenzo Zambarnardi

For further information:
didatticaforli.lmipe@unibo.it

www.unibo.it